

The Daily Courant.

Wednesday, October 30. 1706.

From the Paris Gazette, dated Oct. 30.

Madrid, October 12.

THE King since his Return, has been every Evening at the Buen-Retiro, to take the Air, and play at Mall; and so great has been the Concourse of People, that tho' by his Order the Gates were set open to all Comers, it was found necessary for preventing Disorder to shut them again, such crowding was there to see him. The Queen is to set out from Burgos the 15th, and two Alcaldes are gone from hence to see the Roads clear'd, and to give necessary Orders in the Journey. The 9th the Duke of Giovenazzo having taken the usual Oath, took possession of the Place of Councillor of State, with which the King has rewarded his Loyalty and Services. The Duke of San Juan has taken his Place at the Board of the Council of the Dispatches of the Cabinet, as Minister and Director General of the Affairs of War, in the Room of the Marquis de Canales. It appearing by the Report of divers Prisoners that have been try'd for Rebellion, that several Priests making an ill use of Confession excited their Penitents to revolt, the Supreme Tribunal of the Inquisition have thought fit to employ extraordinary Methods for remedying that Abuse. And it has been resolv'd that a Decree shall be publish'd and affix'd on the Doors of all Churches, commanding all those who have had such Confessors, to inform against them to the Inquisitors, on the Penalty of Excommunication to be incur'd s p s o f a c t o by those who shall not obey this Decree. The same Tribunal are consulting what Means to use to prevent an Evil that is yet more dangerous, seeing it tends to the Subversion of the Catholick Religion in these Kingdoms. 'Tis this, 'the English have dispers'd, wherever they have been, Catechisms of their Religion, to indeavour to convert the People to it, and several Copies have been found in this City, and strict Search is made for more.'

From the Amst. Cour. and Leid. Gz. dated Nov. 2.

From General Staremburg's Camp near Zischo, Oct. 17. The Beginning of this Month we retook Gran from the Malecontents after some Days Siege, by Capitulation; pursuant to which the Garrison were allow'd to retire to their Army on the other Side of the Danube. In this Siege we had 2 Captains, 1 Lieutenant, and 22 Soldiers kill'd, and about 80 Men wounded. The Malecontents on their Side lost 150 Officers and Soldiers, and when they march'd out of the Place an intire Company of their Grenadiers came over to us with many other Deserrers, to the Number of 300 Men. Our General immediately put into the Place the Battallion of Fife commanded by Collorcl Bruckenthal; and so in likewise several Commissaries, to take an Account of what the Enemy had left, and there were found 69 Pieces of Cannon, Brads and Iron, several Mortars left in it formerly by the Turks, 33 Quintals of Powder, 140 Quintals of Mea, a great Quantity of Salt, with Store of Bullets, Bombs, Grenadoes, Matches, Musquer-Balls, and Lead. The Castle was almost wholly ruin'd by our Cannon and Bombs, but the Town is still in a pretty good Condition. The 10th in the Morning we march'd agen, and arriving in the Afternoon ne'r the Fort of Neudorf which we lately took from the Malecontents, Men were set to work to demolish it, and 8 Soldiers that were taken deserting were hang'd. The 12th the Fort being demolish'd, we continued our March tow'rs Neus Mulhn and Almosch, where we posted our selves advantagiously n at Morats. The 15th we decamp'd fr m thence to pass the Danube at Comorra; but the Bridge of Boats that was laid ther for that purpose being damag'd by a violent Wind, we were oblig'd to defer passing till the next Day. The 16th we pass'd that River and encamp'd here. General Palfi Ban of Croatia, has joyn'd us here with his Troops, after having put Provisions into Alba Regalis. We met none of the Enemy's Troops in our March.

From the Amst. Cour. and Leid. Gz. dated Nov. 2.

Vienna, Oct. 20. We have a Report here, that General Rabutin has obtain'd a great Advantage over the Army of the Malecontents, and has taken Csachau, Eperies and Tockay, in Upper Hungary; but there is no certain Advice of it, and 'tis the more doubted, because the Body of Troops commanded by that General, was in a very bad Condition in September, according to the Report made by Count Schlick the Emperour's chief Commissary of War. On Saturday last Count Jorger arriv'd here Post from the Army in Italy, with Letters from Prince Eugene of Savoy, advising the taking of Pavia and several other Places in the Milancze. A Detachment of Malecontents led by General Forgarz surpriz'd the little Town of Zitzendorf the 16th Instant, put to the Sword all the Persons they found in the Streets or on the Ramparts, and then plunder'd it, as they did afterwards 15 Villages adjacent, and carried off a great Booty. The Militia of Austria are going to be rais'd to secure the Country against the Incursions of the Malecontents.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Nov. 2.

From the Imperial Camp at Hagenbach, Oct. 25. The 23d of this Month, we had Information given us by several Spies, that the Marshal de Villars had taken a Review of the Enemy's Army commanded by him; and that he impatiently waited for our repassing the Rhine, in order to undertake some Enterprize. The 24th General Thungen went agen from hence, with several General Officers, to wait on Prince Lewis of Baden at Raftad, and take together a final Resolution for settling our Winter Quarters, lets, and to nominate the Regiments that are to be posted in our Line (which is perfecting) from Buhl to Philippsbourg. To Day we receiv'd Advice, that the Prince of Baden is fallen very sick agen, and has sent to Francfort for an eminent Physician nam'd Brunner. Count Trautmansdorff whom the Emperour has appointed to be his Ambassador to the Swiss Cantons, and who came to Raftad to visit and confer with the Prince of Baden, set out from thence this Morning to continue his Journey to Baden in Switzerland. Just now we have Intelligence, that the 23d at Night the Marshal de Villars went from Croon-Weissenbourg to Lauterbourg, with all the General Officers that serve under him; and that he is actually drawing all his Troops together into one Body near the last mention'd Place; but we cannot guess at his Design. The Saxon Horse formerly mention'd continue their March back to their own Country; but there remain on the Upper Rhine 3 Battalions of Saxons and 2 of Muscovites, for the Contingent of the Electorate of Saxony. The said 3 Battalions are to encamp between Philippsbourg and Waghause.
